It seems like only yesterday I received the call telling me I would be the next President of the Junior League of Louisville. In reality, that was three and a half years ago. That day I had no idea I would serve as President for two years, but I happily said, sign me up.

Saying "sign me up" has been a theme of my League career. When asked to step into a role or take on a new challenge I have almost always said yes, sign me up. Sometimes along the way I would question that decision; Did I have the time to fulfill the obligation? Am I the right person for the job? Does saying yes to the Junior League mean I am going to have to say no to in other aspects of my life? At the end of each placement I have found that I never have regretted saying sign me up. And that is especially true of serving as the President of the League.

Serving as the President has had its highs and its lows, but as I reflect I once again find myself grateful that I said sign me up. I have had the opportunity to work with incredible women, both actives and sustainers, who are doing great things. Some of that is within the league, like completely changing our obligation structure to meet women where they are in 2019 and not 1921. Some of it is out in our community raising awareness about the impacts of poverty on education. Some of it is making sure our new office is set up to be a best in class training facility for our work. But the favorite part of my journey has been the personal relationships and witnessing the community of women supporting one another. I will forever be grateful to the Junior League of Louisville for the opportunities to better myself and our community.

So, I say thank you! Thank you for your time, talent and treasure. Thank you for giving me a space to grow as a professional and as a person. Thank you for giving me a safety net and ear when needed. Thank you for sustaining an organization for nearly 100 years that gives women an opportunity to lead and shows them how it is done. I am forever grateful.

Dolly Parton's Imagination Library

We now have 1,614 active children signed up and 529 graduates making a total of 2,143 children served by the program! Since starting the program in 2017 we have mailed over 24,134 books.

Our Little Free Libraries put 2400 books in the community through April!

Our sixth Little Free Library was opened at Engelhard Elementary in memory of JLL Member Pia Posadas-Miller and was painted by her daughter, Sophie.

We supported Lemonade Day Louisville with their planning and marketing this year while providing volunteers for 9 various events, including educating children about entrepreneurship at three Lemonade Day Universities. 14 Guide, Educate, and Mentor events were held at Maryhurst and Boys and Girls Haven.

Fund Development Snapshot

We opened a new cookbook account at Biscuit Belly.

Our inaugural Little Black Dress Initiative both raised funds for the JLL and educated the public on the impact of poverty on education in Louisville.
